Shrubs

$10 per plant or 2 for $21
{3 gallon container}	Quantity	Total Cost
Azalea: A classic favorite for landscape focal points. Makes a breathtaking specimen plant. Excellent for planting along fences and walls. A great choice for foundation plantings or hedges.
PINK
WHITE
ORANGE
Dwarf Heavenly Bamboo (Nandina): Not a true bamboo, but its foliage texture and growth habit are very similar. Compact, mounding habit that is ideal for small spaces or in containers. The evergreen foliage emerges bright green and turns to brilliant red in the autumn.
Otto Luyken Laurel: Evergreen shrub used extensively for low hedge and structure plantings. Grows 4 to 6 feet tall and nearly as wide. Waxy, dark green glossy foliage will stand heavy shearing. An abundance of white bottlebrush-like blooms are produced in spring.
Pieris Japonica: Sometimes called lily-of-the-valley shrub, as its bloom clusters are made up of similar looking, tiny white to pink bells. Broad-leaved evergreen offers multi-season beauty with its dangling flower clusters and glossy foliage in umbrella-like arrangement.
White Flowered Indian Hawthorn: Glossy, evergreen foliage looks great year-round. Spring brings fragrant, starry -white flowers followed by small purplish-black berries in early autumn. The fruit is attractive and also provides a nutritious treat for a variety of birds. Excellent for planting along fences and walls.

Apple Trees

$15 per tree or 2 for $28
{6-7 foot in 3 gallon container}	Quantity	Total Cost
Carolina Red June: Produces brilliant red, smaller than average fruits that may be round, slightly oblong or conical. Full flavored, early ripening. Fruits boast a dark red skin and fine-grained white flesh that may stain with red after the skin is broken. Ripens in late June / early July.
Pink Lady: An ideal dessert apple. Bears medium-size fruit with rich yellow skin blushed with pink. Apples have a unique flavor — the first bite is tart, followed by delicious sweetness. Ripens in late October. Pollinates well with Fuji, Gala or Granny Smith
Red Delicious: The most popular apple planted in the U.S. Produces a medium to large, deep red apple which exhibits juicy white flesh. This apple is used for eating fresh off the tree and commonly used in desserts. Ripens in September. Suggested pollinators are Granny Smith, Liberty, Golden Delicious, Fuji and Gala.
Yellow Delicious: Large golden apple that ripens late with a fine, sweet flavor. Home use for eating, pies, sauces, and preserves. Pollinate with Red Delicious, Red Jonathan or Early Harvest
Mutsu: Complex and spicy flavor. Also known by the name Crispin Apple, the fruit is larger and rounder than Golden Delicious. Resists russetting and is best eaten fresh from the tree. Keeps well in proper storage without shriveling. Cold hardy. Ripens in late September or early October. Best pollinators: any Golden Delicious.
Yellow Horse: Medium to large apple, yellow with a pink blush and carmine stripes. Flesh is white, coarse, sometimes stained pink. Unusual, tart flavor. Good for fresh eating, cooking, vinegar, and cider. Excellent for drying.
